Emplus has transitioned to become a division of AMG Super
Please update your Payroll System!

Dear Employer,

As part of a strategic review to deliver better value to members, Equity Trustees Superannuation Limited (ETSL), as trustee of Emplus Superannuation Fund (Emplus), is writing to advise that an 'in-principle' decision has been made to transfer the members and assets in Emplus to another regulated superannuation fund – AMG Super ABN 30 099 320 583 (AMG Super), by successor fund transfer.

How does this effect your employees?

There will be no change to your employee's accounts or the benefits they currently enjoy as a member of Emplus, and their membership number remains the same. Emplus will now be referred to as Emplus, a division of AMG Super.

What do you need to do?

The ABN for Emplus has changed from 1 June 2018. However, there is no change to the Unique Superannuation Identifier (USI) – an identifying number used by employers to facilitate the payment of employee superannuation contributions.

It is very important that you update your payroll software, or advise your clearing house, with new ABN for Emplus, a division of AMG Super. Payments made using the previous Emplus ABN may be rejected. Please refer to the table below for the updated ABN for Emplus.

Fund Name	Emplus, a division of AMG Super
Fund ABN	300 993 205 83
Registration Number	R1001006
Unique Superannuation Identifier (USI)	ETL0196AU
